

Family Job Search Assistance Program for US Lubrizol Employees

Helping your loved ones accelerate their job search during these difficult times.

Lubrizol's science touches billions of consumers across the world every day, and our impact and commitment to improve lives has never been more evident or more critical. To support you and your family we are always looking to find ways to improve your lives. During this unprecedented time as we work together to respond to COVID-19 someone in your immediate family may have unfortunately lost their regular employment. For that reason, Lubrizol is partnering with Lee Hecht Harrison (LHH), the leading global provider of career transition and coaching solutions, to extend a special offer to our US employees for their immediate family members to participate in the LHH Job Search Essentials Core Program for three months at no cost.

LHH Job Search Essentials Core Program offers access to a career hub featuring:

- Videos, articles and other resources
- Tips for an improved resume and LinkedIn profile
- Advice on job search strategy
- Guidance on refining skills to confidently apply and interview for jobs

Individuals will also have the opportunity to upload their profile to LHH's Digital Talent Exchange, where hiring managers actively look for people with the skillsets and experience they need in their organizations today. The Digital Talent Exchange also makes it possible for job seekers to connect to job opportunities that don't appear on public job boards.

If you are a Lubrizol employee who has an immediate family member (spouse, domestic partner or adult child) interested in enrolling in the LHH Job Search Essentials Core Program please contact Roger Mar (roger.mar@lhh.com). Lubrizol will not have access to information pertaining to your family member's job search or information they provide to LHH or partner organizations.
